The dead are: Luke Donnelly, Charles Smith, William McLean, William Forsythe and Charles Donnelly, all of Greenock. Pa.

The car was crowded with miners on their way to work from Greenock to the mines near Scott Haven. All the passengers were more or less injured. The rails were frosty and there was no sand in the sand box. This is believed to be the reason Motorman Charles Hunkle lost control of his car The scene of the accident was a mile from the nearest telephone and it was some time before rescuers reached the scene. Meanwhile the injured suffered severely from the cold.

All of the dead and injured lived in the little town of Greenock and were

STRANGER OFFERS CLUES, BUT QUICKLY DISAPPEARS.

Coroner Feinberg Accuses Police of "Messing Up' Case and Says He Is Likely to Set Dickinson Free.

Local detectives went to Baltimore to-day to follow up a clue which may lead to the solution of the mystery surrounding the case of Grace Taylor who was killed by an infernal machine in her flat at No. 103 West Seventy-seventh street last Saturday evening.

Information has reached the police that persons in Baltimore inerested in Olivette Leonard, a seventeen-year-old girl, who was brought New York last fall by one Karl Kaesebier and placed in immoral surroundings in the flat of Mrs. Taylor in West Sixtieth street, threatened the life of the Taylor woman recently.
